Cupid Gets Captain 'Pink' of West Point

Captain Francis Clark Harrington.

Captain Clark Harrington, instructor of mathematics at West Point, and during the latter part of the administration of President Taft military attaché at the White House, made up his mind long ago to marry a bachelor. His friends were convinced that his decision was unalterable. His association with mathematics, which is a notoriously cold science, confirmed them in this opinion. But Captain "Pink," the name by which he is known to the West Point cadets because he is so carefully and fastidiously groomed, has become a victim of cupid. He will wed Miss Eleanor Crozier Reayburn, daughter of the late John E. Reayburn, former mayor of Philadelphia and niece of General William Crozier, chief of ordnance of the United States army, June 30.

Miss Eleanor Crozier Reayburn.

Captain Harrington was graduated from West Point in 1909. When the captain was transferred to West Point to take up his duties as an instructor, it was noticed that there was an increase in the bulk of mail that left the academy postoffice for Washington daily. And the increase was not credited to business of an official character. Miss Reayburn was living in the capital city.

When the engagement became known, so many persons wrote or wired congratulations that it was found necessary to issue 4,000 invitations to the wedding. It will take place at Pequot Chapel, New London, Conn., and will be followed by a reception at Oak Lodge, the summer home of Miss Reayburn's mother, just outside that city.

NATURAL DRAINS NOT SUFFICIENT

City Cannot Dry Up South Bottoms So Long as Rains Continue—Property Owners Do Not Co-operate

According to City Engineer Guy McClure, there is only one way to drain off the water which is collected in great shallow ponds on each side of Madison street south of the Frisco tracks. That is to dig drain ditches from the water to the river. This is not likely to be done, as the property owners on the higher ground through whose ground the ditches must lead object strenuously to their land being torn up in the manner which a general drain ditch would necessitate. A stratum of sand underlies the flooded districts, and if this were not already saturated it might be possible to expose parts of this, which would tend to not as a natural drain, and would lower the water much faster than by ordinary seepage or evaporation.

The great ponds of stagnant water would have been gone before this, were it not for the fact of the long continued rains here. Should a week of dry weather now come, it is thought that most of the water would disappear. Many protests are being lodged with the health department, but the officials of the health office declare that they have no control over destiny, and can only take all the precautions possible against sickness and disease. Oil has been spread over the slimy mud and blizzarding water, but as long as it continues to rain so long will the water collect there, they say. Without the necessary drainage conduits the ponds must simply remain until they disappear through natural means.

ALLEY NEEDS PAVING

Skirvin Is Making Notable Improvement Which Will Prevent Mud Being Carried Up and Down Broadway

Paving started today on the alleyway between the Skirvin hotel and the Rock Island station. Mud carried from this alley into Broadway has made it a difficult matter to keep the street clean at this point, and the flies and filth which accumulate in every unpaved alley have been the source of complaint to the health department. The Skirvin hotel company will stand the cost of the improvements.

OPPOSES RECEIVERS' APPLICATION FOR BIG ORDER

CHICAGO, June 20.—Samuel Untermyer of New York, representing interests in the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway antagonistic to the Reid-Moore control appeared in the federal court before Judge Carpenter today and for the moment opposed the application of receivers for a court order for the issuance of $2,500,000 receivers' certificates with which to pay interest due next month. Action was deferred while Mr. Untermyer, with the receivers, H. U. Mudge and Jacob M. Dickinson went over the accounts of the company.

BEELEER DEFERS TO PARTY WISH

New Member Of State Election Board Protests He Is Soundly Republican

STANDS FOR MAJORITY RULE

"I am here to represent the Republican party and the Republicans of this state, and I am going to represent them as they have never been represented before," said Harry B. Beeler, Republican member of the state election board, appointed by Governor Williams, today, speaking relative to his position on the board.

"I want every Republican in the state to feel that I am here as a servant of the Republicans and what they want I will try my best to secure. I want to get in touch with the Republicans of the state who have done things. I want their advice in matters to come up in future, and I mean to follow that advice."

Mr. Beeler said today that he was sending out letters to all the Republican leaders in the state asking them to co-operate with him and offer suggestions in whatever they saw fit. "Everything in relation to the work of the state election board is going to be open and above board," said Mr. Beeler, "and I want them all to feel that the records of the office will always be open for inspection so far as I am concerned."

"One thing I am going to stand pat on," said Mr. Beeler, "and that is that a majority of the county central committees must approve the selection of members of the county election boards. I feel that this is the best way and it is fair and right that a majority should rule. There will be no appointments on the county election boards, as to the Republican members, for at least two weeks, so that there will be plenty of time to refer the matter back to the Republicans in the counties and let them make the selections. Everybody is going to get recognition so long as I am on the board."

Mr. Beeler had nothing to say relative to the position taken by those who thought the governor was disregarding the law in making the appointment of the member of the state election board. "Mr. Asp and Mr. Geissler are my personal friends," he said, "I believe the best can only be accomplished by working together, and I am going to extend the invitation to all to do this. I want to do it, and believe the Republicans want to."

Mr. Beeler is making himself acquainted with the affairs of the state election board. He is going over the records with Secretary Joe Morris this week. There will probably not be a meeting of the board for several days, and possibly not until the time for selecting the members of the county boards.

"Say this," said Mr. Beeler, "that any time anybody wants any information this office can give, or I can give I am at their service, and will be glad to do anything I can."

FOUR MEN ARE ARRESTED NEAR HOME OF SLATON

ATLANTA, June 20.—Four men arrested last night midnight and dawn by the militia guarding former Governor Slaton's country home, were placed in the county jail today and are held pending action by the military authorities. It was stated that the men were found in a road near the Slaton estate and failed to explain the reasons for their presence there to the satisfaction of the militiamen. No arms were found on the men. It was said. Officers of the guard reported there was no evidence of disorder within the zone under martial law during last night. It was stated at Mr. Slaton's home today that the former governor intends to leave Atlanta within a few days on a vacation trip to the Pacific coast.

WIDOW WON THIS TIME

Mrs. C. G. Jones Was Right in Content that Certain Claim Had Run Statute of Limitations

Another case involving the estate of C. G. Jones was disposed of by the supreme court today in an opinion by Commissioner Bleakmore of Division No. 3. Hattie Woodward filed a claim for $348 against the estate on account of some lots she claimed to have in the Cache la Poudre.

The Oklahoma county court allowed the claim and Mrs. Nettie Jones, administratrix of the estate of C. G. Jones, appealed to the high court. The opinion of Commissioner Bleakmore holds that the claim of Mrs. Woodward had run the state of limitations and the judgment should not have been given her by the lower court.

War at a Glance

Only on the eastern front are events of moment occurring so far as is revealed by the news, which filters through from the vast field of operations. The Teutonic sweep eastward along that front is continuing and the chief question which the military experts are endeavoring to answer is how far it will extend before being halted by the Russians.

With the line of the Dulester north of Hattica evacuated the main field of contention seems to be north of Lemberg, where stubborn rear guard actions are being fought by the retreating Russians. Last Austrian reports mentioned these operations at length and the Russian official statement mentions the continued advance of the Teutons.

More effective resistance apparently has been offered by the Grand Duke Nicholas' forces farther to the north, in the northern part of Russia. Poland, however, the Russians report that they have thwarted a determined attempt by the Austrians to drive through. The only other hints of stirring activity come from the Dardanelles, where, according to Turkish reports, there has been heavy artillery with infantry attacks which later the Turks declare they have repulsed. The course of these operations is being followed closely, it being hinted from London that they may prove to be of more than ordinary importance. No report on them has yet come from the allies.

On the Austro-Italian front the progress of the invading forces continues slowly. The Austrians, indeed, report entire inactivity on the part of Italians except for military firing. There seems to be little if any change in the situation along the western front, where the deadlock continues.

GERMAN

BERLIN, June 20.—Today's official communication follows: Western theatre—The French yesterday prepared for a night infantry attack between Lens and the Bethune-Arras road by a strong preparatory fire, but were frustrated by our artillery.

"In the hills of the Meuse yesterday five attacks on the positions we captured June 20 southwest of Las Epargnes broke down with heavy losses. During the night French advances farther east also broke down.

"East of Lingeville three attacks by several enemy battalions in the forest of Remblais and west of Lientray and Condrexon, were driven back.

"An artillery observation post of the enemy on the Salsbourg cathedral was done away with yesterday by our artillery.

"Eastern theatre—Nothing of importance developed yesterday.

"Southern theatre—The army under General Von Lindingen defeated the enemy during a pursuit along the entire front between Haller and Pielow and drove them across the Glinia Lipa river. In this section the fighting continues. Farther north in the Przemyśl district, the town of Kamionka, 25 miles northeast of Lemberg has been reached by our troops. North of Kamionka, the enemy retreated across the Bug below Kamionka.

"In a section north and northeast of Mosty Wielkie, about 30 miles north of Lemberg and also northeast and west of Tomaszow, the enemy yesterday everywhere, was defeated. Here we are now on Russian territory. Tomaszow is in Poland.

"Under the pressure of our advance in this district the enemy is beginning to evacuate his positions in the Tarnobrzeg section on the lower San."

JEFFERSON, CITY, Mo., June 20.

The supreme court reversed and remanded today the case of the state against Vic Goeringer, convicted in Kansas City of having assaulted Mrs. Gertrude Shiller in March, 1914. Goeringer was under sentence to hang. The case was reversed because the trial court allowed Goeringer only fifteen minutes in which to file a motion for a new trial.
